WHY THE NAXOS MUSIC LIBRARY?

Value for money

Naxos has stood for a combination of first-class performances and recorded sound at an affordable price. The Naxos Music Library offers the same outstanding value-for-money proposition. Naxos owns all the recordings in the Naxos and Marco Polo catalogues outright, paying licence fees only to repertoire licensed from third-party labels.

Online content saves time, money and space

With the Naxos Music Library, no lost or damaged CDs need ever to be replaced. No more worries about lack of shelf space. Multiple copies are no longer required.

On-site and remote access

Students, teaching staff and other users can log in and listen in the library, lecture room, dormitory, office or at home.

In-copyright musical works

Naxos has valid licences with all international public performance societies allowing Naxos to stream in-copyright musical works.

Flexible fee structure

The fee structure is based on the number of simultaneous users, with a minimum of only five users for universities, music colleges and public libraries, and three for schools. Registered users can be both individuals and workstations, on and off campus / site.

Vast range of content

Teaching staff can plan their courses around a wide range of music. The library includes not only practically all standard repertoire, but also a wide range of rare repertoire not available from other sources.

Multiple, simultaneous access

Multiple users can simultaneously listen to the same content or different contents at the same time. The Naxos Music Library is available around the clock for unlimited simultaneous access.

Simple set up

Set up is simple and easy. For educational institutions, Naxos will create a dedicated URL, and flexible access control with a combination of IP address check and Referring URL. Separate usernames and passwords will also be available for professors / teaching staff and library administrators.
